ADJOURNMENT SINE DIE.

The PRESIDENT. This being the day and hour fixed by concurrent resolution for the final adjournment, and the hour of twelve o'clock noon having arrived, I hereby declare the Senate adjourned sine die.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, April 28, 1921.

The House met at 10 o'clock A. M.
The SPEAKER (Samuel A. Whitaker) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. H. Feldman, offered the following prayer:

O Thou who are the beginning and the end, in whose presence we stood as this session of the Legislature opened, we are here now at the close, and we come before Thee with gratitude for the blessings that Thou hast showered down upon us; mindful that one out of the midst of this body was taken before Thine august presence, otherwise Thou hast favored with life and health and strength the members of this body. We beseech Thee this last day as we stand in Thy presence that we may be judged by Thee, and Thou hast the rght at all times to judge, so that we shall deal charitably with each other. May each one look and see how well he has met that peldge which he made before Thee and this Commonwealth, and may each and every one be so satisfied in his mind that he has done that which is pleasing in Thy sight, that he can see Thy favor and accept Thy blessing. Wherever passion has prevailed, temper it with Thy spirit; where there has been misunderstanding, may there be reflection; where there has been a difference, may kindliness overrule all things, and may Thy blessing go with the members of this House as they separate and go to their homes. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday's proceedings, when, on the motion of Mr. Dunn, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal was approved.

An Act fixing the salary of the Lieutenant Governor

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question.

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire from someone who is familiar with this bill as to what the present salary of the Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania is.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Five thousand dollars.

Mr. EDMONDS. This bill provides for an increase to ten thousand dollars; is there any corresponding increase in the duties?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, just to call your attention to what this bill is, this is a bill that raises the salary of the Lieutenant Governor from five thousand dollars to ten thousand dollars, a very generous bill, I should think you would all vote against it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1790, (Senate Bill No. 553), File Folio 4383, on page 22 of today's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. FITZGIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1790, (Senate Bill No. 553), entitled:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the third day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (Pamphlet Laws sixty-two) entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of a Home for Disabled and Indigent Soldiers and Sailors of Pennsylvania" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

APPROVAL OF RESOLUTION.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 27, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives, of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed the following resolution of the Senate and House of Representatives recalling from the Governor House Bill No. 1109, File Folio 6891 entitled:

"Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 1109, File Folio 6891, entitled 'An act providing when how and to what extent liens upon seated real property shall be allowed for county bridge road borough incorporated town township school district and poor taxes the procedure upon tax claims filed therefor the methods of preserving such tax liens and enforcing payment of such liens the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened and the manner of distributing the proceeds of such sales' be recalled from the Governor for amendment". Accordingly, the original bill is herewith returned

WM. C. SPROUL.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1110, (Senate Bill No. 169), File Folio 4593, on page 23 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1110, (Senate Bill No. 169), as follows:

An Act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on or conduct any business under an assumed or fictitious name style or designation unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books for the entry of such certificates fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary and providing penalties" approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws page six hundred forty-five)

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the first section of an act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred seventeen entitled "An act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to carry on or conduct any business under an assumed or ficititious name style or designation unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books for the entry of such certificates fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary and providing penalties" which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That no individual or individuals shall hereafter carry on or conduct any business in this Commonwealth under any assumed or fictititious name style or designation unless the person or persons conducting or carrying on the same shall have first filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in the office of the prothonotary to be entered in a book to be provided for that purpose a certificate under oath and signed by such person or persons setting forth the real name or names and addresses of all the persons owning or interested in said business and also the name style or designation under which said business is being or will be carried on or conducted Where any of the owners of said business live outside of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and carry on or conduct any such business through an agent such certificate shall also show the name and address of such agent" be amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That no individual or individuals shall hereafter carry on or conduct any business in this Commonwealth under any assumed or fictititious name style or designation unless the person or persons conducting or carrying on the same shall have first filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and in the office of the prothonotary to be entered in a book to be provided for that purpose a certificate under oath and signed by such person or persons setting forth the real name or names and addresses of all the persons owning or interested in said business and also the name style or designation under which said business is being or will be carried on or conducted . . . . .

Where any of the owners of said business live outside of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and carry on or conduct any such business through an agent such certificate shall also show the name and address of such agent Provided That the failure of any such person or persons to file certificates aforesaid in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth or in the office of the prothonotary shall not impair or affect the validity of any contract with such person or persons and actions or proceedings at law or in equity may be instituted and maintained on any such contract but no such action shall be instituted or recovery had by any such person or persons on any such contract either expressed or implied in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof until such person or persons comply with the provisions of this act And provided further Before any such person or persons can institute any action in any of the courts of this Commonwealth or before any justice of the peace or magistrate thereof on any cause of action arising prior to the filing of the certificate provided for in this section such person or persons shall pay to the Secretary of the Commonwealth for the use of the Commonwealth a license fee or fine of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars This act shall apply to all actions pending at the date of the passage of this act provided that the plaintiff in any such suit shall pay all costs accrued prior to compliance with the provisions of this act Provided that this act shall not apply to any cases adjudicated at the date of the passage of this act

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION RETURNING HOUSE BILL NO. 1109 TO THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. DITHRICH asked and received unanimous consent to offer the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1921.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 1109, File Folio 6891, entitled "An act providing when how and to what extent liens upon seated real property shall be allowed for county bridge road borough incorporated town township school district and poor taxes the procedure upon tax claims filed therefor the methods for preserving such tax liens and enforcing payment of such liens the effect of judicial sales of the properties liened and the manner of distributing the proceeds of such sales" be returned to the Governor without amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE DISCHARGED FROM CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1237.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee of Conference appointed by the House on House Bill No. 1237, File Folio No. 7199, entitled:

An Act amending an act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-seven entitled "An act to restrain and regulate the sale of vinous and spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof" by prohibiting the manufacture sale offering for sale transportation importation exportation furnishing or possession for beverage purposes of anything determined and found to be intoxicating by Act of Congress passed pursuant to and in the enforcement of the Constitution of the United States of America and by restraining and regulating the sale of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixtures thereof fit for beverage purposes other than such as are from time to time determined and found to be intoxicating by any such Act of Congress be discharged.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, this resolution to discharge the Committee of Conference appointed to confer with a similar committee of the Senate on House Bill No. 1237, is offered because of a disagreement between members of the Conference Committee, and the bill is returned to you exactly as it came from the Senate. I would ask that you vote to discharge the Conference Committee.

Mr. EDMONDS. I would like to make a parliamentary inquiry. What would be the effect of the motion to discharge the Committee? Does it mean the appointing of a new Committee of Conference, or does it bring up the question of the amendments again?

The SPEAKER. It brings up the question of concurring in the Senate amendments.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1237, File Folio No. 7199, be reconsidered.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. BOLARD. Mr. Speaker, as this comes back to us now from the Senate, they have refused to recognize our judgment in this matter in any respect. We defeated this matter yesterday, showing plainly the sentiment of this House. I hope the gentlemen of this House will not change their vote this morning, but will vote to non-concur.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, in a few minutes we will have finished the session of 1921. We have before us the only enforcement measure which we can have, that has passed both Houses. Now, I submit to you that this enforcement measure will do good. Because it does not meet with the approval of all hands is no reason why we should not accept a good thing for what it is worth, and I ask you to vote in favor of concurring in the Senate amendments which as you know, are trifling, and put this enforcement measure on the books. If we do not, we will have none at all.

Mr. DUNLAP. Mr. Speaker, I think the Senate has humbugged this House long enough. I don't pose as a wet or a dry, but I think since this piece of legislation has passed this House, that it behooves us to stand by our guns and insist upon it being passed finally as it passed this House. I would respectfully ask you to vote "no" on these amendments.

Mr. WONER. Mr. Speaker, I want to make it clear to the members of this House whatever their opinion is concerning this measure, that the only matter in controversy is the question as to whether or not a mayor of a city under the inspection clause 23, shall have the right to issue a certificate of inspection. We agree that the district attorney is the logical officer to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment in the State of Pennsylvania and the obstacles in the way of a city policeman in his precinct in performing that duty are very great, therefore I would ask you, this being the only matter in controversy and not weakening the measure in any particular, that all of you vote to concur in the amendments made by the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would announce that had the members of the Conference Committee agreed on the subject matter in dispute, their report would have been in accordance with the statement of the gentleman from Butler, Mr. Woner.

Mr. MARTIN. Mr. Speaker, I shall not disturb the atmosphere but for just a moment. Some few weeks ago I was sponsor of the bill which was defeated on the floor of this House. We took our defeat gracefully, and most of us who voted for House Bill No. 480 voted for the Governor's bill. Personally, I voted against concurring in the Senate amendments yesterday, but when this matter has been returned to us this morning, I think by all means it would be our best play this morning for all of us who voted for House Bill No. 480 to concur in the Senate amendments and pass this bill.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I did not desire to say anything upon this bill at what we are doing in these last moments. This bill comes this time, but it seems to me imperative that we all know what we are doing in these last moments. This bill comes back to us from the Senate practically the same way it went from the House. There is just one change, and that is a question of judgment. Now, Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, as Mr. Walker has well said, this is our last chance on an enforcement act in this session. God knows we ought to have something. I have been in this House for four sessions, and I have not seen so much booze on Capitol Hill as has been here during the last two or three weeks. I want to protest in the name of men of this House. It is not fair for men to come down here as lobbyists and bring carloads of booze with them. I think it is a reflection upon the men who have been in these chairs for years, many of whose friendships I value very highly, and whom I respect as fine men. I do not blame any member of this House, but I do blame the lobbyists who have been bringing booze into this hall for the last three or four weeks. We ought to pass a resolution today to put them out. We ought to pass this today and have some enforcement.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to speak on this question from the standpoint of the dry people who are sincere in trying to do away with this business, who do not drink and do not benefit in any way from it, and who are not willing to take a compromise measure at this time. If you ask the sponsor of this bill who is responsible for it, he will refer you to the Attorney General or to the Governor. No one seems to be responsible for this in the shape it is today. It was given to us in a certain form, after it came from the Governor, and he was responsible. Nobody will deny that they have power enough to force it through in the way it came from the Senate, but if they were honest and sincere in trying to have a dry enforcement measure, we would not have this measure back from the Senate today in the form in which it is. I believe this is a desirable measure for the boot legging crowd, I do not believe it is for the sincere dry people of this Commonwealth, and I believe the matter should be in the hands of the Federal officers instead of those of the state. If the idea of this bill is to assist in the enforcement of the Federal Act, it does not give us one iota of power in that regard. This appears to be a political measure, put through at the bidding of certain men, and I do not believe it is sincere in its purpose. I believe that it is only a saloon measure, a saloon measure for the bootleggers.

Mr. WHITEMAN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to no man, not even to the gentleman from Cambria in my interest in the cause of prohibition and in the sincerety of my desire for honest enforcement. I think I can truthfully say that because of my vote on the question heretofore, yet I have made up my mind that I am going to vote for this bill for the reason that it is the best enforcement law that we can get at the present time, a law that is vouched for by the Governor of this Commonwealth and by the Attorney General. I am not going home having on my conscience the fact that I refused to stand for what the Attorney General of the State has told us and has promised us would benefit the conditions in this state from the standpoint of a man who is an earnest supporter of law enforcement. I would call to the attention of the gentleman from Cambria the fact that we are not only representing the twenty-six dry counties of this State, but we are representing the entire State. I hope the members of this House who are dry, who are advocates of prohibition, will support this measure, because it is the only one that we can get through at this time that will have any enforcement power in it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1539, (Senate Bill No. 862), File Folio 2875, on page 30 of today's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1539, (Senate Bill No. 862), entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask your consideration to the bill which is now before us, Senate Bill No. 862, and do so with the hope that the bill will not pass. This is a bill relating to the municipal court of Philadelphia, concerning which we had a debate about a week ago. This bill proposes to do two things. In the first place it provides that the Governor shall appoint another judge in the municipal court of Philadelphia when the census shows we have an additional increment of population. That is not a necessary provision, for it is in the existing law, and the amendment itself is useless, but there is a second change and it is that second change which is the most serious. This municipal court was originally started with the judges getting sixty-five hundred dollars for the president judge and six thousand dollars for the associate judges. Then, two years ago, in 1919, it was raised to eight thousand five hundred dollars for the president judge and eight thousand dollars for the associate judges. Now in this bill which is before you, the whole thing is thrown into confusion by the insertion of a sort of a phrase that does not tell you what salary they are to get, but it says that the president judge and the associate judges shall receive the salary now provided by law and payable in the same manner as the salaries of the judges of the courts of common pleas are paid. If that means that the municipal court judges get the same salaries that the common pleas judges do, it means an addition of from forty to fifty thousand dollars to the cost of the court. Those salaries were raised only two years ago and there is no demand for the change. I would ask the members of the House to vote down these last hour attempts to get salary increases through this Legislature.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, the usual custom in the House of Representatives has been maintained during the closing hours of this session. We have had the warfare of last night, we have had the trench warfare, the barrages from the rear and the bomb throwing from the front of the House, the shooting of poison and tear gas, but the battle waged this morning is the one particular feature which marks every closing session of the Legislature, the skirmish among the Philadelphia forces. I have been defeated here before on measures, and I do not mind being defeated on them, for every man has the right to his opinion. I have even tried to defeat a measure that I did not consider fair, but when a man tries to insult my intelligence, I resent it. When any man tells you that this bill increases the salaries in the municipal courts, he is insulting your intelligence and is insulting mine. When this bill was brought to my attention last week, one or two of the men who are opposed to the bill on the ground that it does increase salaries told me that they objected to it for that reason, and they said they had consulted three or four lawyers who had borne out their opinion. I took it upon myself to consult a lawyer well known in the Commonwealth, his name is Alter, and he works in the Attorney General's office, and I went with the man who objected to the bill because he said it did increase the salaries, and we submitted it to the Attorney General and he said it was ridiculous. He said there is absolutely no fear and no ground for saying that this bill increases the salaries. And I refer to my learned colleague for whom I have the highest respect, Mr. Baldi. It was he and I who took the matter up with the Attorney General and at that time he told us that there was no fear that this bill could be so construed. Now I will, if I may, read that section of the bill which provides as follows: "The president judges and associate judges shall receive the salaries now provided by law, payable by the State in the same manner that the salaries of the judges of the court of common pleas are paid". Now, men, what can be more plain? What could be more obvious than the language, "the judges shall receive the salary now provided by law". The Attorney General read this section and said the provision concerning the common pleas court refers only to the manner of paying. As I said to you last week, men, this is political warfare. The language concerning the common pleas judges is the very language that is used in the act creating the municipal court, and permit me to read that in the section that is now being amended. The section reads, "The president judge shall receive a salary of sixty-five hundred dollars per annum and the associate judges shall receive a salary of six thousand dollars per annum"; and here follows the very language to which exception is taken by Mr. Edmonds: "payable by the State in the same manner that the salaries of the judges of the courts of common pleas are paid". Men, there could be nothing more obvious. Let me explain why in my judgment the salaries provided by law are not increased. The Constitution provides that where an act is amended the section of the act to be amended shall be set out in full. This section was amended by implication two years ago when the salary of the judges was increased to eight thousand dollars, and this section at this time was not specifically set forth, and therefore in amending this act the original section is quoted in order to insert our amendments. I submit to you that this section cannot possibly, if you desire to take a fair view in the premises, be construed to mean an increase in the salaries. The language is plain that they shall be paid the salaries now provided by law, and it is unfair to place the contrary construction on the act by saying that it is intended to increase the salaries. I therefore ask you men to vote for the bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia to say that in his opinion this bill makes no change in the salaries.

Mr. GOLDER. That is true.

Mr. EDMONDS. Then what is the object of the bill, what change does it make?

Mr. GOLDER. The bill is to provide the manner in which the new judge shall be elected. Under the original act, when an additional two hundred thousand population was found by the United States census, then a new judge is given to the county of Philadelphia. The census has shown that this population has increased to an extent sufficient to grant a new judge to the city of Philadelphia and the county of Philadelphia, and for that reason the majority of the members from Philadelphia are in favor of this bill because it gives us that to which we are entitled.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Speaker, as to why it is necessary to have a new act on the subject since the original act provides for an additional judge?

Mr. GOLDER. Because, Mr. Speaker, we found that His Excellency, the Governor, sometimes must be reminded of things that should be done. Philadelphia is entitled to this judge, Philadelphia wants it, and from my own observation, Philadelphia needs it, and it is really but a reminder that Philadelphia does want it and it is to see that Philadelphia does get it.

Mr. EDMONDS. May I read from the original act: "In the event of a vacancy in the office of judge or when by reason of a new United States census more judges are to be chosen, the Governor shall appoint judges to hold office until such time as their successors shall be elected, as provided by the Constitution of the State". Now, I submit, gentlemen, that if the idea of an additional judge is the basis of this bill, it is in the existing law. If the idea or the basis of this bill is to increase any salaries, it ought to be defeated. In either case the bill is useless. Why is it necessary to put in a new bill, and why is it in this bill that it does not quote the salaries as given in 1919, which would have made the subject entirely clear? I submit emphatically that this is one of the cases in which there may be a dispute among the doctors, and when we of Philadelphia ask you men of the State to pay for these judges out of the State treasury, I ask you to take no chances.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GOLDER. As I understand, have you construed the act creating a municipal court in such a manner as to entitle Philadelphia to an additional judge at this time under the act?

Mr. EDMONDS. I do not know at all what procedure is advisable but when it is certified to the Governor that the population has so increased, then the Governor may appoint such an additional judge.

Mr. GOLDER. From your own knowledge of the fact, don't you know that the population has increased to such an extent that Philadelphia is entitled to an additional judge under the act you have quoted, and that Philadelphia has the right to insist upon such an additional judge?

Mr. EDMONDS. If that be so, I have no doubt but that the Governor will enforce the law of the Commonwealth and will appoint the judge.

Mr. GOLDER. Don't you know from your own knowledge and observation and from your own investigation that the increase in population does entitle Philadelphia to an additional judge?

Mr. EDMONDS. I think in Philadelphia the population is in excess of two millions, and I think the act provides for an additional judge for each two hundred thousand increase in population. If I am not right in my figures you may correct me.

Mr. GOLDER. You are correct in your figures, and the fact is that under the new census taken Philadelphia is entitled, as Mr. Edmonds has read the act, to a new judge. Therefore, I cannot see any objection to such a bill, when under the act we are entitled to what we ask for.

Mr. EDMONDS. Why do you quote the new act? You have it under the old act.

Mr. GOLDER. I may be in error, but the burden of proof is upon my colleague from Philadelphia. If, as he states, we have the right under the existing law, there is absolutely no reason why we should not now pass a bill, an additional act that provides the proper machinery for electing such a judge.

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, when the words appearing in this bill came to my sight, I went to Philadelphia and took it up with one of the judges and I asked his opinion on the meaning of these words. He said these words to me, that this statement was cunningly devised and thought out, and if I had been asked to insert a word or words into a bill that would carry along the increase of salary without deliberately so saying, in order that people might vote for it and not know they were voting for a salary raiser, these are the words I would use. Now, gentlemen, the Governor, for whom my learned friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder, expressed the greatest respect, when an amendment was offered to this bill last week said we should not so humiliate him as to take this power away from him. It is true we should not today humiliate him because on the eighteenth day of January, in speaking from the rostrum of this hall, he said the municipal court in Philadelphia and Allegheny county needed no more judges, and that to appoint them now would be a waste of public funds. Further on in the message he said that the law should be changed so that it would not provide for new judges. Now, gentlemen, my friend has said that this is a political warfare and in all such matters there are always politics just as sure as I am standing here. It is, if you see fit to pass a bill the primary effect of which is to try and "lick" the present mayor. That is the political aspect of it, and I do not think there is any man so unfair as to deny that that is so. If this is political warfare, then it is political warfare everywhere throughout the State, because the salaries of the judges come only from the treasury of the State of Pennsylvania and not out of the treasury of the county of Philadelphia. Under the amendment that has been inserted in the bill it is possible to place the municipal court judges on the same basis as the judges of the superior court and supreme court. I have no authority of course to give you that this is to be done, but under the language of the bill, it raises the salary from eight thousand dollars up to the very modest sum of twelve thousand dollars, and an additional salary of five hundred dollars is given to the president judge. If this were done it would make the cost the very modest sum of eighteen thousand dollars, more than the salary given to a judge of the supreme court of the United States, and he would be the only judge in Pennsylvania, to my knowledge, to be given this liberal treatment. In speaking to a judge of the municipal court, I asked him to give his opinion as to the necessity of a new judge. He said it is a waste of public funds, that there is not enough work now to keep them going, and for that reason I ask you gentlemen to vote this bill down.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I am not going to take up much of your time in discussing this bill. There is only one point that I want to clarify, and that is that this bill does not increase the salary of any judge of the municipal court one cent. The reason that the bill is drawn in the language in which it is is because that under the act creating the municipal court relating to the section, that particular section had to be quoted in this act, and the reason that the act of 1919, which increases the salary of the municipal court judges is not quoted in this act is because the act of 1919 increasing the salary of the municipal court judges also increased the salaries of the judges of the court in Allegheny county, so therefore it was impossible to refer to this act in another act. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TRAINER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Trainer, to give to the members of the House the name of the judge from Philadelphia to whom he referred?

Mr. TRAINER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know what the practice is among the profession, but among the laymen I think that a man of honor is bound to respect the source of his information.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

The roll was verified as follows:

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE DISCHARGED FROM CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1192.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the Committee of Conference appointed by the House to consider the differences existing between the House and the Senate on House Bill No. 1192, File Folio No. 7285, entitled:

An Act imposing a State tax on gasoline and on all other liquids containing any derivative of petroleum or natural gas produced prepared or compounded or usable for the purpose of generating power by means of internal combustion and sold in this Commonwealth except for the purpose of resale providing for the collection of such tax and for the distribution and use of the revenues derived therefrom making an appropriation and fixing penalties be discharged.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, the committees met and agreed to the amendments made by the Senate. The amendments would have been concurred in last night by the House had it not been for a misunderstanding. The only amendments were the following: The clarification of the definition of gasoline, making it comprehensive. The other amendment was adding fifty per cent to the general fund instead of to the road fund of the State. The other fifty per cent goes back to the county as in the original bill. If there was any objection by the House to the original bill, it was to the fact that the fifty per cent went to the road fund. The request was that it should go to the general fund, and that was the amendment added. These facts were given to us by the Attorney General who drew the amendments personally.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House non-concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1192, File Folio No. 7285, be reconsidered.

Mr DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Section 13 Where by the provisions of this act the number of judges in any judicial district is decreased below the number to which such districts is by law entitled at the date of the passage of this act the judges then in the office shall continue to hold their offices until the end of their respective terms but no successor shall be elected to succeed the judge whose term first expires and after the expiration of the term of such judge the remaining judge or judges shall constitute the court of such district and the judge oldest in commission shall be the president judge of said court

On the question,

Will the House adopt the report of the Conference Committee.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, this is a bill which received considerable newspaper comment at the time it was introduced, and for fear that you may not remember its provisions I will briefly state to you that it is the Judicial Apportionment Bill. In the shape in which it was originally introduced in the Senate it changed no judicial district in this State. It did not add a judge or take away a judge. The Constitution provides that after each census there may be a reapportionment of the judges of this Commonwealth. This bill as it was originally introduced by Senator Donahue, was only a form. It is not mandatory that there should be such a reapportionment. On second reading in the Senate an amendment was introduced under which Chester County only was affected. The amendment eliminated one judge from Chester County, at the end of his next term, leaving us in Chester County with but one judge, when we have had two judges for thirty-two years. When this became known the bar of Chester County met and unanimously voted to intercede with this House to put back in its original form the bill which would give Chester County two judges. A mass meeting, attended by people from all sections of the county was held and resolutions were passed. I would like to say, and I do not want to go into personal matters, that the sentiment of Chester County is ninety-nine and ninety-nine one-hundredths per cent in favor of two judges. I don't think any argument is needed except the fact that in 1889 and for a period of thirty-two years, we have had two judges. When we were first given two judges our population was about 80,000. The intent of the law is that there should be one judge for every forty thousand. Consequently, when we had a population of 80,000 in 1889 we were granted two judges and they have not been disturbed since. At the present time we have a population in excess of 116,000. If this report of the conference committee is not accepted, we will remain just as we are. I feel, in all justice to myself, I have tried to be fair and honorable in all my actions in this house, and this is the first time that I have taken the floor because I have felt as a new member that I should not make myself conspicuous on this floor. In twenty-eight years of newspaper life, more than eighteen years of which were spent in Philadelphia as one of the editors of a large Republican paper, I have always stood for Republicanism; I have never once cast my vote or worked for any one except a regular Republican nominee. I want further, to say, that my position is well known. I am happy to state that I took Harry McDevitt, the Governor's present Secretary, out of high school, at the instance of his father, who was a warm personal friend of mine, and I gave him his first position on the Philadelphia press, and in two years that young man had advanced so rapidly that I appointed him my assistant over, perhaps, two hundred other men. Gentlemen of the House. I have been fair and honest in this. I want further to say that when this bill came before the House, the Chester county Bar came and laid its facts before this body in committee, the committee unanimously, without one dissenting voice, put back this amendment. When it went to the Senate, apparently for purely personal reasons, the Senate refused to concur in the action of the House, which had voted 166 to 1 and put this bill back in the shape that it robbed us of one of our judges and the conference committee so reported. If I have been fair and honest, and if I tell you that it affects only Chester county I now ask you not to permit me to go back home to find that the only measure that I put before this House has failed, that this House has comfirmed this report of the conference committee, which would take away one of our judges and leave us with only one judge and put me in a position that I have absolutely accomplished nothing except to permit this House to rob Chester county, which County has had two judges for thirty-two years, and put it down with a county of 40,000 population which counties have but one judge. I therefore ask you and make a personal matter of it, I have worked for all good bills; I have shouted "yea" and "nay" as loud and perhaps louder than many other people in this house. Now I ask you and I make a personal matter of it, to vote no on this conference report. It is the only thing that can possibly save Chester county's two judges. Gentlemen, I have been asked to refrain from opposing the report of this conference committee, but I would not stultify myself to consent to that report. I ask you, if you have any friendship for me, if I have made any friends in this House, and my colleague, the present Speaker of this House, and my colleague Mr. Harer have been entirely in accord with me, if I have done right, if I have been fair, if you will be fair to Chester county vote "nay" on this conference report.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, as the member from Chester county has said, I wish to say that, officially, it is in the same congressional district as Delaware county, and is closely connected, and I am familiar with the two counties, being as well acquainted with it as I am with Delaware county, having spent part of my life in Chester county, I believe it is my duty to add a word in support of what the gentleman from Chester county has said to you. We are not here to-day to help somebody who has any personal grievances. I don't wish to say anything in condemnation of the gentleman who is responsible for this. I am going to leave that to his constituents when he goes back home. They have spoken already so loud that their echoes have sounded from one end of Chester county to another. Just as the gentleman from Chester county has said, there were two meetings held in Chester county and the borough hall was almost too small to accommodate them. I ask you to do this because Chester county has two men whose superiors are not found in any courts of Pennsylvania. I tell you these two men are men away above the average as men of intelligence, as men of integrity and as men who honor the bench. I ask every man in this House to vote without a dissenting voice in support of the delegation or the representation from Chester county and vote "no" on the question of concurring in this Conference Committee Report.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to second, very strongly, the argument of my friend from Chester county, Mr. Long. This is really a moral question. In the thirty-two years they have had two judges the records show that the number of cases has increased from 365 to 495 and the orphans' court business, almost one hundred and fifty per cent. There is no reason for saying that a judge is not needed, for he is needed, and at this present time to abolish one of these judges would be an intimation to the people of Chester county that in some way that insidious political influence was interfering with the proper administration of the bench. Now, I say emphatically that the sound administration of justice is fundamental in order to keep the people satisfied with government, and we cannot do a worse thing than to indicate that an honest judge can be put out of the office at the end of his term by abolishing his position at the whim of some political power. It seems to me that here is clearly a moral question that involves the fundamentals in the courts of law, therefore I say, let us vote no.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. I have no particular interest in this legislation, but as one of the conferees on the part of the House, for the information of the House, I wish to state the reason that led us to submit this report which is signed by five of the members of the Conference Committee. One thing I want to make plain, and one thing that influenced us in presenting this report is that this does not immediately rob any judge of his office. The only judge in Chester county who would be affected by this has something over four years to serve. Now, the sentiment as I understand it is divided here. The gentleman would not be removed out of his office until the end of his term, the Legislature meets again in that time and if it is found that the sentiment is so overwhelming against reducing the number of judges, a bill could be passed at that time creating an additional law judge for that county. Gentlemen, I am simply making a report on the part of the majority of the committee. The conferees were Senator Leslie, Senator Eyre and Senator Vare, and on the part of the House they were Messrs. Harer, Long and myself. We thought we could very well recognize the leadership of the senator from Chester, realizing that he would assume full responsibility and that it did not result in a man's being robbed of his office we agreed to this report that is before you now.

Mr. GOEHRING. Mr. Speaker, I was chairman of the House committee, and we had a hearing on this bill. The first question I asked of the sponsor of this bill was if he had personal notice of this hearing and the reply was, he had. No one appeared in opposition to the bill. There was presented a resolution from the members of the bar of that county, and out of forty-two members the resolution came to that committee signed by thirty-six or thirty-seven. I took notes of that meeting, but I cleaned my desk out day before yesterday and the notes were thrown away. I am sorry that I haven't the notes here. I could tell you of the public meeting in that county where the men and women met and protested against this bill. It was demonstrated to us that there was a personal feeling between the sponsor of this bill and the judge on the bench. I have the highest respect for Senator Eyre, there is no man in the Senate for whom I have a higher respect, but he had notice of this meeting and if he was sincere in this matter, why did he not appear before that committee. It was his duty to be there. I ask you men now to vote no on this bill.

Mr. McKIM. Mr. Speaker, I was chairman of the Judicial Apportionment Committee, to which committee this bill was referred. At the request of the gentleman from Chester, Mr. Long, a public hearing was arranged for, which was held on Tuesday last, or Wednesday last. A representation came there from not only the bar of Chester county but from the Citizen's League of that county, and they came there and made their protest before the committee. They showed to us that Chester county has had two judges since 1889, that in this time the work of the court had increased to a very great extent, in some cases one hundred per cent. We had a communication from one of the judges, not the judge who was deposed or robbed of his office, saying it was necessary to have two judges there, and after due and careful consideration, the committee discussed the matter and unanimously reported in favor of inserting the amendments and allowing Chester county to have two judges. I have no interest in the matter in a political sense at all. I am not familiar with the conditions in Chester county, except as to the proceedings before the committee, and the committee at that time thought there was nothing before it except to ratify what had been stated before the committee and to reinsert the amendment and allow Chester county to have the two judges which they have had for thirty-two years.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to correct the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. McKim. It is not necessary to reinsert the amendments. All that it is necessary to do is to vote no on this conference report and everything is done. I give you my absolute word that it does not change one thing in Chester county. The bill can die, and I have consulted all the lawyers on it that it does not affect anything whatsoever. I am absolutely willing to trust to this House as to my fairness, and I am willing to let it go.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I had the reading clerk go over this piece of literature so that we might be able to see what kind of an article it was. I was sure unless it was read through pretty well that you gentlemen would not know it when it came back from that august body of the Senate on the other side. It is an entirely new article, and while the reading clerk stated it would keep us here until 12 o'clock tonight if all the amendments were read, I agreed with him and therefore did not insist that he should read more than about one-third of them. His throat is getting sore and I know he would not be able to speak if he continued to read all the amendments they put in on the other side, and if they did not make an amendment on the other side, if they could not raise an amount at least $100,000, they did not put it there at all. It is absolutely impossible for any member of this House to tell you at this time what is the total amount in that bill. I want to call your attention once more to the resolution which I offered at the beginning of this session and which is still in the Appropriations Committee of this House, and that was requiring that this bill, together with all other appropriation bills, should be in the hands of the Governor and passed by both houses and in the hands of the Governor fifteen days before the end of the session. What was the result? This House got this bill on Monday of this week. Then it went to the Senate and came back with all these changes, with all these extravagant figures. I want to say to you again, as I have been saying all along, that the Department of the Auditor General, after the present incumbent came into that office, began to grow in leaps and bounds in salaries and expenses until it is all out of proportion at the present time. And now he is about to go from that department into the department of the treasury, and I want you to look at this and see what the increases are. Why, sirs, just look at the attorney charges. I do not know whether he thinks he is going to need an attorney very badly in the next four years or not. It looks to me like he was smelling something or saw something ahead and would need to pay very large fees for attorneys in the next four years. I ask this House at this time, and while it is important, I think the condemnation of this House should be placed upon this practice. I think this House should have more time to consider a matter as vital and important to the taxpayers of this Commonwealth as this is. Ah, sir, it is the most important act we have to perform. When all the other things we have passed this stuff, has been bound up, the pamphlet laws of 1921, outside of this law, will not be worth the binding put on it. It will be the history of this Legislature, perhaps, and like some man said, "The history of a country is the record of the mistakes of that country", and after that Legislature is over, when you read that history you will agree that it is like some women, better off without any history. As I say, there will be nothing within the binding of that book of any importance except this. We are asked to pass this over with only a breath and a smile and a wise look, and to let it go at that. I ask you to vote "no" on the concurrence in these amendments.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, the bill that will be considered in the next vote is the general appropriation bill, which will cover every department of the state government. The Senate has made some amendment to it. The gentleman from Delaware has expostulated at some length on the evil of the method and system that we have in passing the general appropriation bill. He has called attention to the fact that he has introduced a panacea to all the financial evils of the State which as he says is reposing in the bosom of the Appropriation Committee. I want to ask you for a moment to bear with me again on a little matter of history. In the 1917 session the general appropriation bill came to us before noon from the Senate, amended. We did not concur in these amendments and we stayed here until 1:17 the next morning in conference, with what result? The actual result was obtained in the Governor's office, for under the law or the Constitution, he has thirty days after we adjourn to go over this bill and cut out and cull out those things which he does not deem necessary and proper for the good government and for a proper and economical administration. You do not suppose for an instant that the Governor of Pennsylvania is going to lay himself open to any more vitriol from the gentleman from Delaware, and I have no doubt that if the gentleman from Delaware will just take the trouble to dictate to his stenographer his objections to this bill within the next ten days, that the Governor will give them full credit and deal with them as they should be justly dealt with. If we want to go away from here today we can put our confidence in the Governor. He has vetoed certain finanical measures, others he has cut down, and we can leave this measure with him and go home today and let the gentlleman from Delaware fill the public prints with all the thoughts that are on his mind in opposition to the finances. The question now arises, shall we concur in the amendments of the Senate? If we concur, we go home today. If we do not, we will be here with this filibuster for several weeks.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I think that no one can accuse me of being vitriolic in my statements, but I want to say emphatically as a member of this House that I am not satisfied with the financial information laid before the members of this Assembly, and I am not satisfied with the ignorance with which we have had to start in the beginning, nor the way with statements about the finances came to us from the newspapers and from indirect courses. It seems to me the time is here when there should be a thorough understanding not only by the people who are entitled to know it, but to the two hundred and seven men that go to make up this House. I want to call your attention to the fact that in this bill, on page fourteen, there are shown several additional items in the office of the State Treasurer; for legal services, $20,000. Is not the Attorney General of the Commonwealth the Attorney General for the State Treasury?

Is it not right that the legal services to be performed should be performed by the Attorney General? For salaries of investigators including necessary expenses, $50,000. Investigators of what? For the salaries of additional auditors, including necessary expenses, $50,000. For the salaries of additional expert revenue clerks, including necessary expenses, $30,000. I would not speak of these items particularly if it were not for the fact that the Auditor General-elect, in his appearance before the Legislative League, which was also reported in the newspapers, the Auditor General-elect indicated what seemed to him to be a rather low standard of application toward the appointment of various officers of the State. Now, the time will come when there will be a serious scrutiny of the expenses of this Commonwealth and the time will come when the people ask the question why it is, when every business is cutting down expenses and every individual is curtailing expenses, why it is that the expenses of the government piled up? When that time comes we must give the answer to the people in our districts. I am not satisfied personally that we have the necessary data with which to give that information, and I therefore want to ask the Chair in the form of a parliamentary inquiry, as to whether or not it is possible to separate the items of increase, as shown on pages thirteen and fourteen particularly page fourteen, and vote on them separately from the other amendments which come to us from the Senate.

The SPEAKER. It is imposible for the House to act on the bill in any way except to approve it or to vote against the amendments.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, I move that we have a separate vote on the amendments of the Senate as shown on page fourteen.

The SPEAKER. It is impossible for the Chair to entertain such a motion. The rules do not provide for any such sparate action on the bill, except to consider the amendments as a whole, and the question is in concurring in the amendments or not. That is the only question that can be put on the bill.

Mr. EDMONDS. I can see the justice in the Speaker's position, and under these circumstances I will vote against the bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

An Act relating to certain county officers in counties of the fifth class providing for their salaries and the compensation of deputies and clerks in the respectives county offices establishing a salary board and defining its powers and duties placing certain duties on the county commissioners county controllers and county auditors requiring the payment into the respective county treasury of the fees of such county officers and providing penalties for violation of this act with the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend title, line 1, by inserting after the words "Relating to" the word "certain"; amend section 1, line 6, by striking out the word "therein" and insert in lieu thereof the words "whose salary is fixed by this act whether"; amend page 2, line 3, by striking out after the word "law" the word "or"; amend section 5, page 5, line 10, by inserting after the word "applies" the words "whose salaries are fixed by this act"; amend section 6, page 5, line 24, by inserting after the word "officer" the words "whose salary is fixed by this act"; amend section 8, page 6, line 26, by inserting after the word "clerks" the words "for county officers whose salaries are fixed by this act"; amend section 8, page 7, line 6, by inserting after the word "he" the words "at any time"; amend section 10, page 7, line 21, by inserting after the words "required for" the words "the safe keeping and return of"; amend section 11, page 7, line 25, by inserting at the beginning of the line the words "the following"; amend section 11, page 7, line 27, by striking out after the words "of the county" the words "commissioners each" and insert in lieu thereof the words "controller where such office exists"; amend page 7, line 28, by inserting after the word "thousand" the words "five hundred"; amend page 8, by striking out lines 1 to 7 inclusive; amend page 8, by striking out lines 18 to 29 inclusive; amend page 9, by striking out lines 1 to 18 inclusive; amend page 9, section 12, line 22, by inserting after the word "any" the word "such"; amend same line by striking out after the word "officer" the words "named in this act".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I know nothing about the details of county organization in counties of the fifth class relative to the salaries. I would suggest that somebody who knows something about the counties of the fifth class examine the amendments and explain them to the House.

Mr. MARSHALL. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds, the bill was worked out and amended in the Senate so that it would meet with the approval of the members who were interested in the bill and has now been returned to the House for concurrence.

On the question recurrring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 25, 1921.

Whereas, At the session of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, the Legislature of Pennsylvania did adopt resolution number seventeen B. (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred and thirty-two), which is as follows:

"Whereas, A series of massacres pogroms and outrages unparalleled in the history of civilization for savagery and brutality, have occurred in more than 120 towns and villages in Poland and Ukraine, in which innocent men, women and children of the Jewish faith were mercilessly tortured, killed, and burned alive, thousands wounded, women and children ravaged homes destroyed, and synagogues with their worshippers burned down; and

Whereas, It is reported that these outrages were countenanced by representatives of the Polish Government; and

Whereas, The people of the great United States have always condemned discrimination against people by reason of race, color, and religion; and

Whereas, This great Republic has entered the World War for the purpose of making the world a safe place to live in, and permit and make possible for the smaller nationalities to enjoy the blessings of democratic rule; and

Whereas, American justice and fair play demand that Poland, which was greeted with hearty approval of the Jewish people upon her birth as a free nation through the efforts of America, should not deny to the Polish Jews those claims to fundamental human rights for which for many centuries she strove; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Senate of the Commonwalth of Pennsylvania (if the House of Representatives concur), That we condemn these unspeakable horrors and brutal outrages and atrocities, perpetrated against people who gave their life's blood on the fields of battle that freedom and equality may prevail throughout the world; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth forward a copy of these resolutions to the Congress of the United States and to the President of the United States," and

Whereas, at the time of the adoption of said resolution the Prime Minister of Poland, Mr. Paderewiski had requested the President of the United States to appoint a commission to investigate such alleged pogroms, and

Whereas, The President of the United States did appoint a commission, consisting of Mr. Henry Morgantheau, Brig. Gen. Edgar Jadwon and Mr. Homer H. Johnson, to investigate Jewish matters in Poland, and

Whereas, The said commission after investigation in Poland did make two reports in which it is agreed that there is not the slightest foundation that the alleged outrages and pogroms enumerated in the aforesaid resolution, nor excesses of any kind whatsoever were contenanced by the Polish Government, and

Whereas, Further the said reports disprove the existence of a series of massacres, pogroms and outrages, unparalleled in the history of civilization for savagery and brutality, and further the said reports requdiate even a suspicion of "women and children of Jewish faith were mercilessly tortures, killed burned alive thousands wounded, women and children ravaged, homes destroyed, and synagogues with their worshipers burned down," therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the Commonwalth of Pennsylvania extend to the Republic of Poland its best wishes and hopes for its prosperity and happiness: and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Commonwealth forward a copy of these resolutions to the Minister from Poland to America, to the Congress of the United States and to the President of the United States.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

On the question,

Will the House concur in the resolution of the Senate?

It was concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

House Bill No. 1345.

An Act providing for the reimbursement of counties by boroughs and townships when the county has contracted with the State Highway Department for the payment of both the county's and the borough or township's share of the cost of constructing or improving a State or State-aid highway authorizing counties to so contract empowering boroughs and townships to incur indebtedness therefor and authorizing an assessment of the borough's share on the abutting property with the information that the Senate has passed the same without amendment.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The Speaker. If there is no objections the Chair will now announce a recess for a short time, but before doing so wishes to impress on the members the necessity of returning for the session after the recess because many very important bills are still before the House; conference committee reports are still to be presented and roll calls will be necessary. If there is not a full attendance after the recess, it may cause a call of the House, and the Chair would regret that. Therefore, the members are requested to return after the recess.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will now declare a recesss for one hour.

AFTER RECESS.

The SPEAKER (Samuel A. Whitaker) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The time of recess having elapsed, the House will be in order.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO THE HOLDING OF A SESQUI-CENTENNIAL IN PHILADELPHIA.

Mr. EDMONDS offered a resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1921.

Whereas, preliminary steps have been taken by the Mayor, the Council and a citizens' committee of the City of Philadelphia, to prepare for the holding in that city, in the year 1926, of an exposition to celebrate the Sesqui-centennial of American Independence, and

Whereas, it is expected that the various states of the nation, the federal government and all the nations of the world will be represented in this exposition, and

Whereas, it is fitting that such an exposition, international in character, following the great world war, should be held in the city of Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence was signed, and where the Constitution of the United States was framed, and where the nations of the world may appropriately come together on terms of amity and enduring progress and peace,

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the Legislature of Pennsylvania heartily approves the holding in Philadelphia, in 1926, of an international exposition celebrating the Susquicentennial of American independence.

Resolved that it is the sense of the Legislature that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should prepare for and participate in the preparations for such Sesqui-centennial celebration by making a suitable exhibit therein on the part of the Commonwealth.

Resolved Further, that the federal government be requested to approve the holding of the Susqui-centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1926 and that appropriate steps be taken to invite the participation and cooperation of the nations of the world.

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the federal government and to all the states of the Union, requesting cooperative action on their part.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Speaker, this is a resolution introduced at the request of the mayor and councils of Philadelphia, in which we ask the Legislature to invite the Legislatures of the other states and foreign countries to cooperate with the city of Philadelphia in an exposition planned for 1926. We have already passed a resolution introduced by my friend, Mr. Walker, providing for a commission on this subject, and this is an invitation to the states and to foreign countries to come in and help.

On the question recurrring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DUNN. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1529, (Senate Bill No. 34), File Folio 2795, on page 22 of today's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE.

Mr. LONG. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House refuses to adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 958, entitled:

An Act to designate the several judicial districts of the Commonwealth as required by the Constitution and to provide for the election and commissioning of judges learned in the law for the said districts be reconsidered, and the bill returned to the Committee of Conference for further consideration.

To you gentlemen of the House I would like to explain to all of you who so kindly and gallantly supported me this morning, that the Senate wishes to recede from its nonconcurrence in the amendment of the House as originally with bill so that the House and Senate can stand together as not disturbing Chester County's judges.

Mr. DITHRICH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL NO. 1167.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, April 27, 1921.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1167, entitled "An act providing that in townships of the first class municipal claims for grading, constructing, paving, rebuilding, curbing maintaining, repairing and cleaning sidewalks and footwalks, and keeping the same clear of obstructions and other nuisances may be included in and collected with the other township taxes".

This bill provided that in addition to the remedies now provided by law for the collection by townships of the first class of municipal claims against owners of lands for grading, constructing, paving, rebuilding, curbing, maintaining, repairing and cleaning sidewalks, and keeping the same clear of obstructions, the township authorities may add the amount of such claim to the tax duplicate, and have the same collected by the township treasurer in the same manner as other township taxes are collected.

This is anomalous in the extreme. The property owner would be deprived of his day in court to defend against the entry of a judgment against him, and would be compelled to resort to a court of equity to restrain the tax collector from collecting the tax charged against him.

Due process of law and orderly procedure must not be sacrificed for mere speed. The interest of the individual citizen must be protected at all times. I see no reason for such a departure from the regular methods of collecting municipal claims.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

WM. C. SPROUL.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. PIKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that the veto together with the bill be laid upon the table.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives, numbered and entitled as follows:

House Bill No. 462,

An Act making an appropriation to the Mount Pleasant Memorial Hospital Mount Pleasant Pennsylvania

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk read the amendments as follows:

Amend section 1, line 4, by striking out the words "twenty-three" and insert in lieu thereof the word "thirty"; amend same line by inserting after the word "thousand" the figures "($30,000)".

On the question,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

AMENDED SENATE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

Senate Bill No. 290,

A Joint Resolution proposing an amendment to article three (III) of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED SENATE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the amendments made by the House of Representatives to Senate Bill numbered and entitled as follows:

Senate Bill No. 1048.

An Act to amend section six hundred twenty-seven of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 932 (Senate Bill No. 355), File Folio 657, on page 22 of today's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. CLUTTON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 932, (Senate Bill No. 355), entitled:

An Act authorizing the cities of this Commonwealt to regulate or prohibit and prevent the use and sale of fireworks fire-crackers sparklers and other pyrotechnics and the unnecessary firing and discharge of firearms in or into the highways or other public places of such cities

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 1505.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which the House concurred in the amndments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1505, File Folio No. 7299, entitled:

An Act relating to dogs and the protection of livestock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to livestock and poultry by dogs and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and making an appropriation thereof and providing penalties be reconsidered.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, my purpose in asking for a reconsideration of the vote on the amendments to this bill is to request the Senate to strike out an amendment which they inserted in the bill and in which the House inadvertantly concurred, namely to pay into general fund of the State Treasury all moneys derived from the dog fund for paying the damages caused by dogs in the several counties.

This amendment takes away from the counties the money that they formerly had received. In York County the amount that would go into the treasury would be about $9,000. The same thing occurs in other rural counties throughout the State, and it is for the purpose of restoring to these counties this money after the damages have been paid. I ask for a reconsideration of the vote so that the Senate amendment may be reconsidered.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I would like very much to support the motion before the House, but I would first like to inquire where the bill is now.

The SPEAKER. The bill was messaged to the Senate after the House concurred in the amendments.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, is the bill in the House?

The SPEAKER. The Clerks will ascertain whether or not the bill is still in the transcribing room, or whether or not it has been messaged to the Senate. If it is satisfactory to the House, action on the motion will be withheld for the present.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, I am of the opinion that the bill is in the transcribing room; I just came from there.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1741, (Senate Bill No. 973), File Folio 3833, on page 21 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1741 (Senate Bill No. 973) entitled:

An Act to amend an act entitled "An act amending section nine of an act entitled 'An act in relation to the laying out opening widening straightening extending or vacating streets and alleys and the construction of bridges in the several municipalities of this Commonwealth the grading paving macadamizing or otherwise improving streets and alleys providing for ascertaining the damages to private property resulting therefrom the assessment of the damages costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited and the construction of sewers and payment of the damages costs and expenses thereof including damages to private property resulting therefrom" approved May sixteenth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-one enabling municipal corporations to lay out open widen extend and vacate streets or alleys upon petition or without petition of property owners as amended by the act approved the twenty-second day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five providing for the approval of ordinances by the city recorder and the publication of the ordinances approved the nineteenth day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three (Pamphlet Laws thirty-five) providing that the ordinances may require that no building may be built or altered except to conform to the lines fixed by the widening or straightening ordinances and that in such case the landowner's right of action shall not accrue until actual occupancy by the municipality or the locating or relocating of the building to conform to the new lines

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1565.

The Speaker. The Chair will take up again the motion of the gentleman from York. The bill is not here yet.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the Chair where the bill is.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the bill is in the House transcribing room and will be here in a few moments. As soon as it is returned the motion will be taken up again.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO. 858.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1787, (Senate Bill No. 858), File Folio No. 2251, entitled:

A Supplement to an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations' approved the twenty-ninth day of April Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four providing for the incorporation and regulation of electric light heat and power companies" approved the eight day of May Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eight-nine by extending the powers of every corporation heretofore or hereafter incorporated for the supply of light heat and power or any of them to the public by electricity and of every corporation which has heretofore accepted the provisions of said act as provided herein and granting to every such corporation the power to appropriate property outside the limits of public streets lanes alleys and highways subject to the finding by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the service to be furnished through the exercise of said power is necessary or proper for the service accommodation convenience or safety of the public and providing a method for the assessment of damages arising from such appropriation was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, when this bill was before the House, I am rather satisfied that we did not understand this proposition. We passed a companion bill relating to water power companies a little while ago. This bill applies to electric heat and light companies and steam power. These two bills are companion bills. In this bill there is no power of eminent domain given to a corporation of itself. That corporation must go before the Public Service Commission and show cause why the land that they want should be taken, with absolute redress to damages to the person from whom it is taken, but besides that, if you will turn to page 2253 of the Senate files you will find that the limitations to appropriate property outside the limits of public streets, lanes, alleys or highways and within the borough, town, city or district where it may be located necessary for its corporate use in the construction, erection, operation or maintenance of its buildings, machinery, apparatus, plants, works, equipment and facilities for generating electric light, heat and power, or any of them, for the transmission or distribution threof, except that streams, rivers or waters of this Commonwealth, or any of them, or the land covered thereby or other public property or property of a public service company or property used as a burying ground or place of public worship or a dwelling house or the reasonable curtailage not to be less than three hundred feet appurtenant thereto shall not be appropriated by virtue of the power conferred by this sub-sertion so, gentlemen, you see this is not a broad act. It limits it as far as the taking is concerned to three hundred feet if it is a dwelling house, and second, there must be damages paid for the taking, and third, no taking can occur unless the Public Service Commission finds that it is a necessary use for the benefit of the public, who draw their light, heat and power from such a plant. The general objections that govern those cases of eminent domain are removed, and it seems to me that if we want to have an improvement, this is the chance. Let me tell you that two years ago an almost similar bill was introduced that was vetoed by the present Governor, because it took in burying grounds and other places that we look upon as more or less sacred, and in order to meet the objections of the Governor at that time, this bill has been drafted, and it has eliminated everything that the Attorney General pointed out was illegal and the objections mentioned by the Governor in his veto message.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Who determines the damages for any property that the company may go through?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. The Public Service Commission.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Do I understand you to say that any public utilities company can go through my land or my piece of ground and that then I have to come to the Public Service Commission to see whether I get any damages?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. No, the Jublic Utilities Company must first get permission from the Public Service Commission, but under this bill it has to first get the permission, then agree on the amount of damages to be paid before it can take the property and it cannot go more than three hundred feet away from the plant.

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaker, in regard to what has just been said on this bill, there is a feeling of doubt in referring it to the Public Service Commission. I know what treatment I or any other individual will get against the corporation if the case goes to the Public Service Commission. I passed through the mill and understand and know what I am talking about. I ask every member that voted against this bill before to do so again.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, when I voted against this bill before, I was misinformed. I was informed that it was a water power bill to which I was very much opposed, but I have no direct opposition to the provisons of this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I correctly understood the gentleman from Philadelphia or not. Did I understand that the right of damages or the damages, rather, would be awarded by the Public Service Commission?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. That is one way of adjustment. The other way is by a jury of views, and there, of course, lies the value of the bill. The courts of common pleas have jurisdiction over such cases.

Mr. ALEXANDER. When you speak of a jury of views, do you mean under the right of eminent domain?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. It is what might be called a qualified eminent domain bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. What do you mean by qualified eminent domain?

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Real eminent domain vests in the government. They can take and make you wait, but this bill provides that before you may take, if you wish to take, you must get the consent of the Public Service Commission. If they give consent, then you must adjust either through the Public Service Commission or the parties in interest or a jury of viewers, if they have such in the county, or otherwise you can go to the common pleas courts.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Ageeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendments.

HOUSE BILL NO. 1505.

The SPEAKER. The Chair would state that on the motion before the House, of the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, for a reconsideration of the vote by which the House concurred in the amendments made by the Senate to House Bill No. 1505, that the Chair is now in possession of the bill returned from the House transcribing room and wishes to state to the House that the bond copy of this bill has actually been forwarded to the Senate and signed by the President pro tem. The bill, however, is in the possession of the House and the concurrence may be reconsidered, but before it is effective it will be necessary that the Senate revokes the action of the President pro tem in signing the bond copy of the bill. The House will take up the consideration of the motion.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I again make the motion that I made heretofore.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, would it not be better to present a resolution recalling the bill from the Senate? Would not that put us in a better light?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is of the opinion that the most expeditious manner would be to offer a concurrent resolution, neverthless this motion can be presented, if the mover desires.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, would it not be possible to ask the President pro tem to withdraw his signature and return the bill to the House?

RESOLUTION REQUESTING THE SENATE TO RETURN HOUSE BILL NO. 1505.

Mr. SPANGLER offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1921.

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), that House Bill No. 1505, File Folio 7299, entitled: "An Act relating to dogs and the protection of livestock and poultry from damage by dogs providing for the licensing of dogs by the Secretary of Agriculture providing for the enumeration of dogs by assessors regulating the keeping of dogs and authorizing their destruction in certain cases providing for the protection of licensed dogs and for dogs temporarily imported for trial show and breeding purposes prescribing certain privileges for hunting dogs and dogs owned or used by the Board of Game Commissioners providing for the assessment of damages done to livestock and poultry by dogs and for the illegal killing of licensed dogs and the payment of such damages by the Commonwealth imposing powers and duties on certain State county city borough town and township officers and employes directing the payment of all moneys collected into the State Treasury and making an appropriation thereof and providing penalties" be returned to the House for the purpose of rescinding its action on the amendments of the Senate.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER VOTE ON SENATE BILL NO. 956.

Mr. PHILLIPS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 1788, Senate Bill No. 956), File Folio No. 4403, entitled:

An Act supplementary to an act entitled "An act granting to water power companies and other corporations owning or controlling water power authority to develop and distribute electric power by means of their water power and to erect construct and maintain the necssary buildings plant and apparatus for that purpose approved the second day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and twenty-five) by extending the power of every corporation heretofore organized or hereafter to be organized for the purpose of supplying water power to the public and granting to every such corporation the power to appropriate property outside the limits of public streets lanes alleys and highways subject to the finding by the Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that the service to be furnished through the exercise of said power is necessary or proper for the service accommodation convenience or safety of the pul · and providing a method for the assessment of damages a···ing from such appropriation was agreed to on final passage be reconsidered.

Mr. WOLFE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the Chair if the House is in possession of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is informed that the House is not in posession of the bill.

Mr. GLASS. Then, Mr. Speaker, the motion is out of order.

The SPEAKER. The bill has taken the same course as the one which the House is just now attempting to regain through a concurrent resolution, and the motion is not now in order.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1768, (Senate Bill No. 1061), File Folio 4579, on page 19 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. FITZGIBBON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1768, (Senate Bill No. 1061), entitled:

An Act amending section one of the act approved the third day of May one thousand nine hundred and nine (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and seventeen) entitled "An act for the safety of persons from fire or panic in certain buildings not in cities of the first and second classes by providing proper exits fire-escapes fire-extinguishers and other preventives of fire by vesting jurisdiction for the enforcement of this act in the Department of Factory Inspection and by providing proper penalties for any violation of the same" as amended

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1528, (Senate Bill No. 768), File Folio 2223, on page 21 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1528, (Senate Bill No. 768), entitled:

An Act authorizing and empowering the county commissioners of the several counties of this Commonwealth to erect and contruct sewers and a plant to dispose of the sewage from county buildings and to acquire rights of way and the necessary lands for said purposes by purchase or by the exercise of the right of eminent domain at the expense of the county and providing the ways and means of ascertaining and paying the damages of those whose lands may be taken or injured by reason of the exercise of the right of eminent domain for said purposes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I would like you to look at the bill which is before you at the present time. It is Senate Bill No. 768, File Folio 2223. It gives the right to the county commissioners of any county of this Commonwealth to erect and construct sewers and sewage disposal plants for the disposal of its own sewage. I can readily see how a county might be mulcted in a great amount of damages which otherwise can be averted. This at the present time, is for the purpose of some supposed need in the County of Delaware. I know of no reason why in the County of Delaware a sewage disposal plant should be erected. It will cost much less to clean out the wells than to erect a sewage disposal plant, especially since it is very likely that in a few years the borough of Media and other districts in the county will probably have their own public sewage disposal plants which will save the county this extreme expense. If the commissioners are permitted to condemn land anywhere near the borough of Media and erect a sewage disposal plant, it is going to run the county into a tremendous large debt, which at the present time it should not be called upon to carry. I ask you, therefore, to vote against this bill. I might add, further, Mr. Speaker, that it seems to me before a bill of this kind is passed by the Legislature, it should have the proposition in it, giving to the people of the county the right to say whether or not this tremendous amount of money should be expended by their commissioners, and therefore, for those two reasons, I ask you to vote against this bill.

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I heartily concur in what the gentleman has said. It seems to me that always, when a community is compelled to expend a large sum of money, that certainly, before such a project as that is undertaken, the people of the community who have to pay the tax for the payment of that project should be consulted, and if this bill had such a provision in it, it would be all right. As it is now, it is a bad bill and should be defeated.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL READING).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1519, (Senate Bill No. 560), File Folio 2155, on page 32 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. HARER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1519, (Senate Bill No. 560), entitled:

An Act to provide for the sterilization of inmates of institutions having the care and custody of idiotic imbecile epileptics feeble-minded and insane persons in cases where such sterilization will materially improve the mental or physical condition of such persons and in cases where owing to the idiocy imbecility insanity or feeble-mindedness of such persons not in permanent custody procreation by such persons would produce offspring similarly affected

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House all I want to do is to call the attention of the House to the bill which is now before you, namely Senate Bill No. 560, File Folio No. 2155, on page 32 of to-day's calendar. It seems to me that this bill is entitled to a little more consideration than a casual calling of the roll, as it makes a very great change, and I am very doubtful whether we should have anything to do with such legislation as this except to defeat it.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Mr. DAWSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1445, (Senate Bill No. 233), File Folio 2133, on page 31 of to-day's calendar, be made a special order of business at this time.

Mr. W. W. JONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1445, (Senate Bill No. 233), entitled:

An Act to authorize cities of the first class to regulate the removal and disposal of garbage to prevent the private collection thereof and to enforce the provisions of ordinances providing therefor by fine and in default of the payment of such fine by imprisonment of the person or persons violating any such ordinance

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR.

Mr. CONNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be dropped from the calendar.

Mr. JORDAN offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Legislature be extended to the Rev. William H. Feldman for the strict attention of his duties and the kind thoughts expressed of our afflicted members, their bereaved families, as well as all the members

RESOLUTION THANKING READING CLERKS.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I noted among the resolutions that one had been omitted. I think, sir, and therefore move, that the unanimous thanks of the House be extended to both our reading clerks.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER.

The SPEAKER. Before announcing a recess, the Chair wishes to caution the members that after the recess it will be necessary for the members to be present. A number of Senate messages and some Conference Committee reports will be presented at that time, and roll calls will be necessary, and it will also be necessary to have a full attendance.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. Speaker, I arise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STEVENSON. Mr. Speaker, I was reported in the Gazette Times of to-day as voting in favor of the Full Crew repealer. I did not vote in favor of the repealer, and desire to have the correction made.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Speaker, I move that that privilege be granted the gentleman and that the correction be made on the records.

Mr. GLASS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. The House will take a recess for one hour, and at the end of that hour the House will reconvene. The House will be in control of the Committee on Entertainment and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, will take the Chair.

PRESENTATION CEREMONIES.

The SPEAKER. It is customary at this season of the year to perform certain ceremonies. The Chair would request the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Campbell, to take the Chair.

HONORABLE THEODORE CAMPBELL PRESIDING.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Chairman, it is indeed a pleasure to present on behalf of this House at this time to the Hon. Robert S. Spangler, this ring, as a token of the relations that exist between him and the members of this House. The session has been, true to prophecy, a short one, but what it lacked in length it contributed in latter day activity. It was eventful to such a degree as to submit personal qualifications and personal relations to the acid test. And now that the conflict is almost over, it is a pleasure indeed, to ask you to accept this gift as a token of the love and esteem in which you are held by the members of this body. You can always feel assured, as you look upon it, that friendships have been established during these days that will long outshine the luster of the stones that adorn it, and that will be effulgent as youth when the gift shall have crumbled into dust. Take it, wear it, and may God's richest blessings ever attend you.

Mr. Chairman and members of the House of Representatives, on behalf of the Chief Clerk, I have the extreme pleasure at this time of presenting the Hon. Robert S. Spangler with this gavel used during this session of the Legislature, and with the beautiful chair that you see standing in front of the rail.

Mr. ROBERT S. SPANGLER. Mr. Chairman, Mr. Hess and my fellow members, I assure you that I am almost overcome by the confidence of this House as expressed by Mr. Hess, and by the unanimous sentiment so vociferously sounded by the members of the House. I appreciate your gifts, not for their intrinsic value, and in view of the fact that I am not Speaker now, if it were not for the personal side of those gifts, I would have a hesitancy in accepting them; but I do accept them because I realize that from these gifts there comes the outpouring of the heart and for that I am gratified beyond expression. I have ever tried to be fair, to be just and to be honorable in my relations with each member of this House, and I feel that everything that I have given in the way of accommodations, in the way of courtesy to the members of this House has been returned to me with a full heart. I say to you that no matter what may have transpired in the past, I know that you members, deep down in your hearts, have for me that sentiment which is more than anything else or any gift could be to me. I thank you, as I say, from the bottom of my heart. I entertain not a single feeling of regret or resentment for anything that may have occurred here, for I love you one and all, and I know that you have that same feeling toward me, and when the pressure was relieved, you have always expressed that sentiment of kindness, of friendliness and of affection to me.

And you, Mr. Chief Clerk, I wish to thank you for the many courtesies and many kindnesses you have extended to me during this session. I cannot tell you how much I appreciate what you have done for me and what these gifts mean to me. I thank you from the bottom of my heart, and shall treasurer these gifts as a remembrance of the kindest affection from you.

And members of the House, again let me thank you; let me wish you well; let me look forward to the time when I shall be able in some way to return the many favors and the many courtesies that you, as individual members of this House have consistently shown me.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Lawrence, Mr. Jordan.

Mr. JORDAN. Mr. Chairman, permit me to depart in a way from the formal custom of this House by in the beginning of my speach by saying "Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen", for it may be necessary for us to so address the House two years from this date. We may have some of them as members in our midst, and it is well for us to become accustomed at this early time to the quite probable departure of "Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of the House".

I feel today as though I should not be standing in your presence. Up until this morning hour, my heart was exceedingly warm toward every member of this House, but during the morning hour I received a message that deeply disturbed me, that deeply grieved and offended my most delicate soul. I received a message written in a pronounced hand stating, "You are wanted at the Speaker's desk immediately on the gasoline bill". Not having a flying machine and being very short of leg, I did my utmost to appear there before the hour hand would move one particle. When I appeared at the Speaker's desk, I was informed that he had not written the note. Now, I was grieved, gentlemen, I said, "Who did it"? He said, "You did it." I said. "I didn't do it." I said, "Some man certainly did it," but as I could not settle it on anyone, I became angered against every member of the House, every one of them, and I said I must depart with my back turned toward them. Then I began to consider and I said, "No member of the House surely did this; it was done by some member of the Senate" and as some member of the Senate did it, I feel as warm toward you now as I ever did before.

Now ladies and gentlemen, I have been ask at this time to present to our Chief Clerk, Mr. Garvin, an evidence of our esteem, an evidence of our manly love. We have learned to esteem you, Mr. Garvin, we have learned to love you, because we have received from you nothing but courtesy, nothing but kindness, and we love you especially because from you come our presents, and we children do love these presents. We will cherish them in our memory because of having them with us. We love you also, Mr. Garvin, because it is from you that we received that which enables us to remain in your midst. The love of money, we are told, is the root of all evil, but that does not apply to the members of the Legislature of Pennsylvania. None of us loves money; we did not make one effort to increase our salaries this year. We did increase them two years ago, but our hearts have changed during the two years to the extent that we did not ask for one additional thousand or two thousand dollars. We have begun to economize, and we are thankful to you that you did not give us any more in order that that spirit might be developed into true genius, and I believe that if we return again in two years, that we probably will reduce our salaries. We will be so emaciated that we will feel that a smaller salary will keep our bodies as they are.

Now, in giving this present to Mr. Garvin, we want to state that it is a standard time watch, that it is not one of these daylight saving watches. It is a standard time watch and it is a watch that does not stand like that clock in this hall. It starts, it goes on and on and on; it is a sort of an eternally going watch, and we hope that you will find it so in your possession. Now, we remember Mr. Garvin. We also remember another person associated with him, his most genial and most considerate assistant, Miss Barnett. We, at this time, in the giving of this present, the two hundred and seven members of this House desire also to embrace her, and as it will not be possiblee for us to extend an outward manifestation of our inner sentiment, I believe that we might appoint as our representatives our modest and our efficient Speakers, finished, gentlemanly bachelors, Mr. Whitaker and Mr. Spangler. If they fail, I will come to their rescue. I am in a most serious mood after the offense of the morning hour, but now I have departed from it, and have become somewhat sober, and so, Mr. Garvin, out of the fullness of our hearts of appreciation at this time, we extend to you this watch.

Mr. THOMAS H. GARVIN. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, you gentlemen well know that my part in this Assembly is not that of speech making. I have endeavored to fulfill the duties of my office to the best of my ability and I extend to you my sincere thanks for this beautiful token.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Brady.

Mr. BRADY. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House, it seems to me that there is rather a coincidence in the fact that I am given the high honor of presenting the token of appreciation of the members of the House to one of our most dearly beloved employes. I feel that he is just as brief in his speeches as I am in mine, and therefore I think that is the reason why the Chairman of the committee gave me the honor. There is no need for me to speak of the high regard and respect which we have for our Rresident Clerk, no need for me to set forth how unfailing his courtesy always has been. Therefore, I shall merely conclude by saying that this token which the House presents to him is but a slight acknowledgement of their feeling toward him, and we all feel that in the years to come every tick of that little token will bring back to him memories of the session of 1921, and also the thought that every member of the House was at all times ready to evidence the highest of feelings for him, and of the fact that those feelings may develop into something more. Therefore, Mr. Bergner, it gives me great pleasure on the part of the House of Representatives to present to you this slight token of our high regard.

Mr. M. K. BURGNER. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House, I thank you, one and all.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Williams.

Mr. WILLIAMS. Mr. Chairman, it has been my pleasure to have known James N. Moore since the time when he represented Butler County as a member in this House of Representatives. Years before I had been introduced to the mysteries of legislation, a friendship was formed which has been greatly to my personal benefit in my services as a member of this body. He is a man of ripe legislative experience, who as the parliamentarian of the House, has piloted our ship safely through many troblesome storms and always in a way to retain our full confidence. Jim, in handing you this gift, while not very impressive in appearance, it carries to the largest degree our respect and esteem for you as our friend and adviser. I voice the unanimous sentiment of the members of the House, and our wish at this moment is that health, happiness and prosperity may be yours for many years to come.

Mr. JAMES N. MOORE. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Dithrich.

Mr. DITRICH. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, while the splendid gentleman from Lawrence was talking, in his talk he referred to the message to come to the Speaker's Chair in regard to the gasoline tax bill. I was reminded of the message I received while at dinner last evening in regard to an important amendment the Senate had made to the gasoline tax bill. I was called out of the hotel and informed that the Senate had amended the act to exempt the steam roller of the House from taxation.

Looking backward, all the unpleasantness of the Session is forgotten. The one splended thing at the close is always this hour of jollification and felicitation of the various members and the employes of the House. I know that we all enter into it with a kindly spirit toward one and all. I realize that the time is getting late, it is almost 12 o'clock, and as one of the newspapers said this morning during the last few days, particularly beginning with Monday, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Walker and myself have made more motions than all the rest of the members put together throughout the entire sesson. If that be true, I feel that you have listened to me enough, but it is my great pleasure and privilege to make a presentation to the Assistant Clerk who is a resident of Allegheny County. Mr. Hillgrove, you have impressed all the members with the fact that you are a very apt pupil of the honorable gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Tom Garvin, particularly in the promptness with which you learned his celebrated formula, "The gentleman is so recorded." I feel that the members of the House appreciate the splendid service you have rendered, your faithfulness to duty, and they recognize in you a worthy successor to Mr. Garvin and in saying this I pay you a sincere compliment, because anyone who could be recognized as a worthy successor of the Honorably Thomas H. Garvin is indeed some man. I present you this in behalf of the members of the House.

Mr. WILLIAM A. HILLGROVE. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I think "Uncle Tom" has told it all. I am like he is; I am not here to make speeches. I am a good bit like a councilman in Pittsburgh before the Wallace Act, when we had about fifty or sixty councilmen in common council. He had been there about six years, and one time one of his constituents asked him why he did not make a speech, and he said, "There are men there to make the speeches, I do the quiet work". That is the way with me, I do the quiet work. I want to thank you one and all for this token. I will take it back home with me and have it ever in my mind. I thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelpha, Mr. Walker.

Mr. JAMES A. WALKER. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, after the sleepless hours we have spent of late, I have no doubt that from the hour of noon today until probably the same hour tomorrow we will all be ready for a good rest, and, as we, in this closing hour look at each other and realize that we will part in a few minutes and that we will go north and south and east and west, perchance some of us, never to meet the other again, how delightful it is to remember that all sense of hostility that may have existed in us has been washed out. As I looked over the House while the gentleman from Lawrence and the gentleman from Allegheny were speaking, I was remined of the words,

"Then shall wars and tumults cease;
Then be vanished grief and pain;
And righteousness, joy and peace
Undisturbed shall ever reign."

And how great it is that in the closing moments peace will and must reign. Among the number of those who have been so good to us during this session is the Assistant Resident Clerk, whose duty it is at all times to see that the wants of the members are looked after and whom you might say lives on the job. We have been ntertained by him, courteousness and kindness have always been with him the symbols which have never been forgotten. So today, with joy that may do something for him to cause him not to forget us and make him feel we have appreciated his kindness and also to say to him that we have enjoyed his entertainment of us so well that we wish he would give it also to other folk, the committee has asked me to present to him a beautiful set of dishes, to the end, first, that he may enjoy their beauty; second, that he may entertain others, and third, to remember that if in the course of time one is broken, it will be but a symbol to him that only in the course of time when the grim reaper stretches forth his scythe and takes from us that which makes us men, will our love and friendship for him be broken. Mr. Meals, it gives me signal honor on behalf of this House, to present to you this certificate for a set of dishes.

Mr. I. DALE MEALS. Mr. Chairman and members of the House, I thank you one and all from the bottom of my heart.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, last night the Appropriation Committee had a dinner at the Penn Harris Hotel, and in the adjoining parlor there was a meeting that was largely attended by beautiful women, which attracted the attention of my colleague, Mr. Baldi. Mr. Baldi inquired of our colleague, Dr. Campbell, as to the meeting that was being held, and Dr. Campbell replied that it was a meeting of the spiritualists. Knowing as I do that Charley Baldi's knowledge of most things is very limited, I asked said Baldi whether he knew just what the spiritualists were, and he replied in this manner "A spiritualist is a person who will tell you you are here when you are not, and who will tell you you are not here when you are here". I was somewhat troubled and was worried. I wondered about the mysteries in the bill introduced by Mr. Stadtlander, and in the wee hours of the morning when I went to bed, I thought of the many roll calls here, and right away the mystery was explained, for indeed if Baldi's definition were correct, then we have in our midst two great spiritualists, the reading clerks of this House, for if ever men were recorded here when they were not here and recorded not when they were here, then the spiritualists we have here, Quay R. Huwitt, Oliver E. Martin and David W. Thomas should be elected the supreme high "muckety-mucks" among all the spiritualists. Gentlemen, as the curtain is going down on the last act of what some of us call a drama, some a comedy and some a tragedy, there remains with us one thing which is the biggest thing and the best thing and the most endearing thing, the only real compensation in public life, good fellowship and the friendships we formed. Our critics have sometimes been kind, usually very unkind, whether justified or not the future will tell. But it is a happy thought to take away with us that despite the differences we have had, the fellows that we met are all good fellows, and there hasn't been any member of the House who served in past sessions and who has returned, who has not come back either as a member or not with the feeling that he is happy to be back in the old place, and there isn't a member who sits here today who does not, with all the fullness of his heart and notice, I say the fullness of his heart extend his hand of friendship to those who have gone and in the very same spirit the members of the House today from the fullness of their hearts have followed an old custom, that which is more than a custom, it is a genuine desire, a spontaneous desire, to show in any small way we can our appreciation of the many courtesies that have come to us from the desk. And so, after we have taken our gains from the Full Crew, the Woner bill and others, on behalf of the House it is my extreme pleasure to present to our buddy, Davy Thomas, our good friend and pal, Mr. Martin, and our colleague, companion, friend and saint, Quay Hewitt, these envelopes.

Mr. QUAY R. HEWITT. Mr. Chairman, members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, I have been called everything but a spiritualist and a saint, and now I have been called them. I have seen rings handed out today, watches and dishes, and I surmise this is full of jack. Believe me, gentlemen, it takes jack to buy rings and watches and dishes I appreciate from the fullness of my heart the courtesy you have extended to me. It reminds me of a little piece by Omar, Khayyam,

"Not what we give, but what we share,
For the gift without the giver is bare;
He who gives himself with his alms feeds three,
Himself, his neighbor and me."

Mr. DAVID W. THOMAS. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I sincerly appreciate the gifts you have presented to me today. I have been with you since 1913, I was a member of the House in 1913, 1915 and 1917, and occupied the desk in 1919 and also in this session. I have told my friends back home, rather the Luzerne County members, that it is the little things after all that make us feel we want to come back to the Legisislature, and gentlemen, I feel at this time that I want to thank you, one and all, from the bottom of my heart for this little token.

Mr. OLIVER E. MARTIN. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, I appreciate the spirit in which this is given. I thank you.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Edmonds.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen, the very pleasing duty has been assigned me with reference to three more of those who serve at the desk. I want first to express my hearty appreciation and endorsment of all that has been said with reference to the efficiency and friendship of the men at the desk. This is the first organization I have ever met that is to my liking, and I am bound to say that I hope it maintains itself for many years to come. To the desk clerk, message clerk and the acting journal clerk, it is a great pleasure on behalf of the committee and in the name of the members of the House to thank you for the work that has been so excellently done, to express our appreciation of the friendship and helpfulness that has been so continually given and to wish you in the name of all the members of the House good luck for your future work. Mr. John Eberle, Mr. George Offenbacher and Mr. R. A. Freiler.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Joseph C. Marcus.

Mr. JOSEPH C. MARCUS. Mr. Chairman, members of the 1921 session, ladies and gentlemen, so much has already been said that there is very little left for me to relate; but in the final analysis we find that all our trials and tribulations, the various complaints we may have and the inconvenience of coming from different sections of the State in getting here are more than compensated in the personal contact with a body of men whose friendship we hope to perpetuate for many years to come, and we shall always look back to the happy days we spent here. After it is all said and done, we have at least tried to do what we thought was best, but no member of the House can leave this session without a feeling of great tenderness to one who always presided at the opening of the session, whose prayers were an inspiration to each and every one of us. He has been endowed with a personality that has been rich in fellowship, with an address that has been such that we could meet him always on equal terms, and everywhere he went he radiated sunshine. It is my happy privilege to be given the opportunity on behalf of the members of the 1921 session to present to the Rev. William H. Feldmann this gift, and at the same time to present to Mr. Clarence E. Seiler, one who has served us faithfully, and if he only did one thing in the 1921 session, he has been more than amply compensated if he only served Charley Baldi. His numerous messages have kept him busy, but in all seriousness we all appreciate his loyalty and his numerous courtesies. Also, on behalf of the members, I have the pleasure of presenting to Robert J. Tracey our token of friendship, and the manly manner in which he guarded the doors on many previous occasions. We all wish him the happiest memories of the 1921 session.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Clearfield, Mr. Phillips.

Mr. PHILLPS. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House, as we come down to the closing hours of this session there is and always has been, since I have been a member of the Legislature, a feeling of sadness in parting from the fellowships that we have made and from the feeling that existed during the entire session, but with all the sadness we have a bright side, and that bright side is when the members of this House can step up to the officers of this House and express their gratitude by small tokens or gifts. This we are called upon to do today, and I have the extreme pleasure to present to the worthy gentleman who acted as our postmaster so faithfully during the session, Mr. Richie, this is a token of our esteem. Also, to the gentleman who has been superintendent of the storehouse, Mr. Frank D. Bowman, this is a token of the appreciation of the members of this House.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair recognizes the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Golder.

Mr. GOLDER. Mr. Chairman, while this is not on the regular program, it just occurs to me at this time that the members who are not acquainted with the fact and the visitors who, of course, would not be acquainted with the fact that an effort has been made by the members of this House to induce Samuel A. Whitaker to let us present to him, as has been the custom, some small token of our appreciation. Mr. Whitaker, much against our wishes, and much against the absolute and sincere desire of the men who approached him declined to allow us to present to him any token whatsoever. While we do not approve the stand he has taken in this connection, we feel that we desire to say publicity that during the short time that he has acted as Speaker, he has carried out the traditions of the Chair, that he has acted fairly and squarely as has Robert Spangler, and taking all the circumstances as they are, we are indeed fortnate that we are blessed with two men of such sterling qualities and integrity. May I be permitted to say at this time to Samuel A. Whitaker that the thanks and the appreciation of the entire House are his, and we trust that the most cordial relations and friendly relations and the affectionate regard which has always existed between Mr. Whitaker and this House will continue to the end of all time.

SPEAKER WHITAKER. Mr. Chairman and gentlemen of the House, I thoroughly appreciate the kind words from Mr. Golder and the cordial welcome of the members of the House. I would like very much to erpress my appreciation, but unfortunately, and it is your own fault, you catapulted me into a job which I had not sufficient voice to complete and now I am without sufficient voice to express my feelings on this occasion. I will say briefly, gentlemen, that the associations made in the session in a House of this kind, not only the pleasant friendly associations, but even those brought about by the sharp clashes of contests cement the friendships which arise, and in after days and in after years we all grow to appreciate an interest and to have an interest with those men with whom we have become friendly in the session. We feel a deep and abiding friendship with them. It has been so, on every occasion when I have been a member of this House before, and it will be even more so on this occasion. I assure you that I will always feel the deepest interest and kindest friendship for all of the members, the officials and the clerks of this House. I thank you.

AFTER RECESS.

The SPEAKER (Samuel A. Whitaker) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The time of the recess having elapsed, the House will be in order.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Sentae being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate April 28, 1921.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY THE SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 28, 1921.

Whereas, preliminary steps have been taken by the mayor, the Council and a citizens' committee of the City of Philadelphia, to prepare for the holding in that city, in the year 1926, of an exposition to celebrate the Sesqui-centennial of American Independence, and

Whereas, it is expected that the various states of the nation, the federal government and all the nations of the world will be represented in this exposition, and

Whereas, it is fitting that such an exposition, international in character, following the great world war, should be held in the city of Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence was signed, and where the Constitution of the United States was framed, and where the nations of the world may appropriately come together on terms of amity and enduring progress and peace,

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the Legislature of Pennsylvania heartly approves the holding in Philadelphia, in 1926, of an international exposition celebrating the Sesqui-centennial of American Independence.

Resolved, that it is the sense of the Legislature that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should prepare for and participate in the preparations for such Sespui-centennial celebration by making a suitable exhibit therein on the part of the Commonwealth.

Resolved Further, that the federal government be requested to approve the holding of the Sesqui-centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1926 and that appropriate steps be taken to invite the participation and cooperation of the nations of the world

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the federal government and to all the states of the Union, requesting cooperative action on their part.
